SUBJECT: Mihai Constantinescu

TO: BELGRADE, BAGHDAD, BOLOGNA, PARIS, ROME, SALZBURG, TRIESTE, VIENNA

Now in operation is a centralized Intelligence Source Register, which in certain cases will reveal whether or not an inspected source is selling identical information to more than one intelligence agency. The Register should also make possible the identification of sources of fabricated intelligence.

In this connection the following sources have been determined to be unreliable:

Titi Constantinescu (alias Tito Constantinescu, Peter Constantinescu, Petre Constantinescu, Peter Bogdan, and Peter Monson) is peddling information on Romanian emigres in Europe, as well as information received from refugees among Romanian emigre groups, Western intelligence services, and at least one Communist-dominated country.

He was born October 29, 1910 in Bucuresti, Rumania. Between 1925 to 1931 he attended the Rumanian Aeronautical Technical School. Between 1931 and 1934 he attended the General Staff War Academy and the Maneuver School of Firing and Bombardment. Between 1934 and 1936 he attended the Rumanian War College of war. After taking the bachelors' degree in electrical studies (1936 to 1941) he was appointed as an engineer. In 1941 he was sentenced to a long prison term for anti-government activities. When an amnesty was decreed he escaped from prison and became a ranking member of the Communist controlled resistance. He obtained derogatory information from his 'files' regarding his political activities and Peter Petre, his alias, in 1947. He assumed the name of Petre and in January 1948 became the manager of the office bear (possibly Rumanian secret service) in Constantiaboy, with telephone
